

Master
FELIX ANDRIAN

FengShui Architecture & Design, INDONESIA

A formally educated architect and a Feng Shui master by passion, Master Felix Andrian has dedicated his career to integrating Chinese metaphysics into architectural design. His journey began while studying architecture at Parahyangan Catholic University (UNPAR), when he discovered the profound connection between space and energy, leading him to explore Feng Shui.

Since 2000, Master Felix Andrian has pursued an in-depth study of Feng Shui, attending seminars and workshops by esteemed Indonesian experts, including Dr. Mauro Rahardjo, with whom he later collaborated as an assistant. In 2004, he attended the 1st International Feng Shui Convention in Singapore, where he met internationally renowned Grand Masters. He later studied under GM Vincent Koh, completing training in Feng Shui, BaZi, and Zi Wei Dou Shu, graduating as one of the top students of the 25th intake. His knowledge deepened further through studies with GM Raymond Lo, GM Stephen Skinner, and Senior Master Yap Boh Chu. In 2014, he was accredited as an Accredited Feng Shui Master (AFSM).

In 2005, Master Felix Andrian founded Fengshui Architecture & Design (FAD), offering consultancy services that merge architectural design with Feng Shui principles. His projects include residential, commercial, and urban design, collaborating with architects and designers to create harmonious spaces.

Beyond consultancy, he actively educates the public through articles, media, and YouTube. Since 2016, he has been a lecturer at Parahyangan Catholic University. In 2024, he founded FADacademy to train future Feng Shui practitioners.

Committed to lifelong learning, Master Felix Andrian continues to refine his expertise, ensuring his work remains at the forefront of both architecture and Chinese metaphysics.
